MANAGING EDITOR'S NOTE

It is a privilege to author my first Editor's Note as the Managing Editor for the Local Government Law Review. We have begun a momentous transition process. Quite frankly many of us, especially me, are still trying to wrap our heads around the process that ends up each quarter with this superb product. The Law Review is an invaluable resource to so many of us that practice in the Local Government field. The Law Review has always comprehensively covered the latest case law and legislation affecting all types of matters such as tax appeals, land use, employment and any number of other subsets of municipal law. It is our pledge as the Law Review Committee to continue to produce the same quality that our subscribers have come to expect. We also know that success is measured by your latest failure, so we are committed to find new ways to improve the Law Review. There is no monopoly on good ideas, so if you have any suggestions please contact me and share your thoughts.

While Tom Dunn, our intrepid Editor extraordinaire, is reducing his level of involvement with the Law Review (albeit maybe little slower than he wished), we have added a few new associate editors to help not only lighten the load of case summaries but also infuse us with new blood and vision for the future. Please welcome Kathryn Razin and Will Maslo as our brand-new editors and we have "promoted" Andrea Wyatt and Robin La Bue to full associate editors. We have also added a new production assistant, Alice Winstanley. As the old saying goes, many hands make light work, so we are very pleased to have Kathryn, Will, Andrea, Robin and Alice as part of the team.

All of us on the Law Review Committee had no real appreciation for the time, thought and energy commitment made by Tom Dunn over many years. We, the editors, send in our case summaries and then magically somehow Tom made it into a searchable, readable format. He has done it without complaint and without compensation commensurate to the level of time spent. Tom continues to help tremendously by continuing to do some of his backroom editing work as well as inculcate us with his knowledge and insights. We are in a steep learning curve and probably will be over the next couple of editions. So, we ask the readers understanding and patience during the transition.

Again, we encourage you to consider submitting an article that qualifies for the $1,000 Walter T. Wittman Prize in writing. To qualify you now have until September 15, 2022, to submit an article to us. We would welcome any articles concerning the legal issues effecting local governments. Contact us about it by email to joe@friendwenzel.com.
